Laurie Graham started her broadcasting career in the traffic department of CKEY in 1976. She then moved into a sales position at CKEY in 1976, where she stayed for 3½ years before moving on to CKO. At CKO, Laurie sold both locally and nationally. In 1985 she moved over to CFRB to replace the first woman in sales in Toronto, who was going on Maternity Leave. Laurie remained in Sales moving into the Retail Sales Manager role and then becoming General Sales Manager for CFRB. In 2003, after 19 years at CFRB, Laurie left to become the General Sales Manager for Standard's 3 stations in St. Catharines.

Laurie sits on the Board of Directors for Canadian Women in Communications and is her 3rd term. Most recently she was asked to join the executive committee for the CWC as well. Laurie is also on the Board of Directors for the Ontario Association of Broadcasters.
